Elsa,

Bob and I were incredibly disappointed by Saturday's article in the Journal. Rather than absolve Bob of wrongful charges, the President fueled the fire by saying that certain "explosive" claims warranted further investigation. Not only did he throw Bob under the bus, he created the (wrongful and damaging) impression that Bob's past conduct is the primary basis for the upcoming investigation. Bob and I regret continuing on the high road by refraining from comment and referring Jessica Dyer to the President's office. Bob is anxious to have the media understand that virtually every allegation investigated by Judge Black were unfounded. It has become even more critical that we have an understanding in place before the new investigation is formally announced. I am available on my cell phone (██████████) today, and if that is not convenient for you, please let me know your availability tomorrow before 8:00 or after 11:00 your time. Thank you.
